Printing and Copyright

This book is designed to be easy to use onscreen via the links from the table of contents and the detailed index.

Should you choose to print it, it is written in an ecological font with tiny holes in it to save ink.

PRINTING TIPS

To use much less ink and print everything quicker print in colour but always selecting draft or economy ink setting.

To find that option:

1. Open the document you want to print
2. Select FILE then PRINT and your printer menu will open.
3. Look for SETTINGS or PREFERENCES and select draft or economy.

The wording may vary depending on your printer, but this option will be there.

SPECIAL FONT

This is an optional step to save more ink every time you print any document.

The books are created with an ink-saving font with tiny holes. You save 20% more ink in addition to saving ink using the draft printer setting.

To benefit from this font you need to install it in your fonts folder. If you are a total beginner with computers you might prefer to skip this step.

When you yourself create documents you may use this font and save ink each time you print.

Here is an information page on how to download that font, which is free of charge.

http://www.teachingenglishgames.com/font.htm

It's best to print in sections, such as ten pages at a time; that way if your printer chews up a page you won't be in a total mess!
